

Baird Medical Presents Advanced MWA Technology to UCLA Expert in China

April 14, 2025

NEW YORK, April 14, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- Baird Medical Investment Holdings Ltd. (NASDAQ: BDMD) ("Baird Medical" or the "Company") recently hosted Dr. Gary G. Tse, a distinguished interventional radiologist from UCLA Health, for an immersive clinical visit in Guangzhou, China. The visit highlighted Baird Medical's cutting-edge microwave ablation (MWA) technology and its growing role in minimally invasive thyroid treatments.

Dr. Tse observed multiple thyroid nodule ablation procedures at Sun Yat-sen University Cancer Center, gaining valuable insights into the precision and clinical efficacy of Baird Medical's MWA system. In addition to the procedural observations, Dr. Tse participated in academic discussions with Dr. Michael Mingzhao Xing, Professor Emeritus at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine. Together, they explored the latest advancements and clinical outcomes in thyroid nodule management.

Dr. Tse's visit reinforces Baird Medical's commitment to fostering partnerships with leading medical experts worldwide. As the Company continues its global expansion, it remains dedicated to enhancing the accessibility and effectiveness of minimally invasive treatments for thyroid conditions.

About Baird Medical

Baird Medical is a forward-thinking medical device company specializing in minimally invasive diagnostics and treatment. It is dedicated to the research and development of AI-powered surgical robotic systems and innovative minimally invasive surgical instruments. Our mission is to enhance patient outcomes through precision technology and advanced diagnostic solutions. The company's technological roadmap will fully integrate breakthrough innovations from the open-source AI community—leveraging cutting-edge inference models such as Deepseek and Grok3, while fostering strategic collaborations with leading academic institutions. Our vision extends beyond surgical assistance, aiming to develop intelligent systems that proactively guide diagnostic decisions and preventive healthcare strategies. As an FDA 510(k)-certified medical device company, Baird Medical has deployed its solutions in over 30 prestigious hospitals and clinics across the United States, including Johns Hopkins Hospital, Tulane Medical Center, Weill Cornell Medicine, and Columbia University Medical Center. Baird Medical is also the market leader in China in thyroid microwave ablation devices and consumables. Meanwhile, the company's minimally invasive treatment products are gradually expanding their commercial presence in over 20 countries worldwide.
